TABLE LEGS

Table legs from Fortin Ironworks are the perfect compliment to any wood table top. Designed with longevity in mind, each leg boasts a timeless feel, with sturdy construction. Every hand crafted leg utilizes a fully welded frame, made up of only the finest 14 ga. 1½” steel square tubing, and are coated in a durable black powder coat finish. While our legs are intended for use with 1½” thick wood table tops, the possibilities are endless. Installation is a breeze, giving you six ¼” mounting holes to securly fasten your table top, and adjustable feet, to make sure your table sits perfectly level. With a standard size of 28½” tall by 28” wide, our stock table legs are available for easy shipping, and can be delivered right to your doorstep. DUBLIN

ELEVATE SIMPLICITY

Dublin table legs give a fresh look to a classic form. Raising the stretchers allows for a simple elegance, but define more of the form. An emphasis placed on the vertical posts, provides an elevated feel, and gives tables a leg up in character. Maintaining similar design lines from our Linden style, Dublin table legs fit the same wide variety of table tops giving you more flexibility.

PUSHING MODERNITY

Thurman table legs have a strong modern feel, with a minimalist approach. Inspired by elements of Mid-Century Modern furniture, the Thurman creates a contemporary shape that gives any table a modern feel, but still retains timeless design elements. Geometric table tops pair perfectly with the modern design of the Thurman, however, organic shapes still work beautifully.

GOODALE

PUT IT ON A PEDISTAL

Art deco inspiration covers this unique line of table legs, as our Goodale table legs harken back to a bygone era, and fuse it with contemporary styles. The design draws interest, while remaining understated. Pairing a set of Goodale legs with a beautiful, simple table top, allows for the Goodale leg to have breathing room, and share the spotlight of any table. Straight edge tops work best with these legs.

GRANDVIEW

INNOVATE

The “X” table leg shape is a modern classic, however, we felt we could innovate. Utilizing our steel tubing instead of wood creates a modern feel for the rustic inspiration. Moving beyond the “X” shape creates an hourglass figure that allows for the Grandview table legs to maintain their own personality. Grandview legs work with most tops, but simpler geometry allows for the sharp angles to not be overbearing.
